PROFESSING TO BE STRANGERS AND PILGRIMS

We profess to be strangers and pilgrims, seeking after a country of our own, yet we settle down in the most un-stranger-like fashion, exactly as if we were quite at home and meant to stay as long as we could. It's no wonder apostolic miracles have died.

Apostolic living certainly has.
- Amy Carmichael
(16 Dec. 1867 - 18 Jan. 1951, Christian missionary in India, who opened an orphanage and founded a mission in Dohnavur, serving in India for 55 years without furlough, writing many books about the missionary work there.)
